The TRUE GAMESTER.

An ANECDOTE.

[From "An Hasty Sketch of a Tour, thro' part of the Austrian Netherlands, made in 1785."]

WHEN I was at Aix, there was a little Italian, who, within a fortnight, had undergone as many revolutions of fortune, as in general fall to the lot of the most extraordinary gamester during his whole life. He came there as an adventurer, with a few Louis d'ors in his pocket, determined to try the favor of fortune. His first attempt was at hazard, where he played crown stakes, and as fortune kindly smiled on him, increased to an half guinea, and so on, to bank notes. In the space of 24 hours he had stripped the bank of upwards of four thousand pounds; and the next morning, resuming his operations, broke the bank entirely, his winnings amounting to more than nine thousand pounds. One would have imagined, that a poor needy adventurer, who most probably had never seen a twentieth part of such a sum before, would have packed up his all immediately and returned, in his own mind a prince, to his native country. Content, however was a stranger to his mind, and the accession of one sum only brought with it anxiety for another. For several days, however, the bankers could not play, so completely had he reduced them to their last stakes. A supply of cash at last arrived, which enabled them to open a fresh campaign. Our little adventurer, as usual, stuck close to them; and, for a few hours, his usual success attended him; the tables at last turned on him and from being the possessor of ten thousand pounds he left the bank reduced to his very last Louis. When he reached his lodgings, he could not help taking a retrospective view of his conduct. How did he bewail his situation! how lament that he had not been content with his former gain, and retired to his own country to enjoy the fruits of his success! To complain, however, of his situation, could not mend it; convinced of this, he determined to make one more vigorous effort to recover the money he had lost; fully determined in his own mind to leave Aix directly, if fortune should once more smile upon him; yet how to raise money sufficient to put himself in the fickle jade's way, he could not tell. At last, however, he recollected a friend whom he had assisted in several emergencies, and who resided only a few miles distant from the city. To him he immediately dispatched a messenger, with a request of the loan of 30l. This was immediately complied with, and our little Italian returned to the gaming table, much to the discomfort of the bankers, who, from the success that had attended his play, had conceived no small dread of him. His usual run of good luck attended him, and, from being master of only 30l. he left the table with more than ten thousand and not forgeting the resolution he had formed in his fit of poverty, retired to an inn, ordered a carriage, and packed up his baggage. In the interim, however, one of the directors of the bank, learning his intention, set off immediately, and resolved to use all the rhetoric he was master of to persuade him to relinquish his design. His arguments were too specious not to destroy the resolution of the poor Italian; his fortune was fixed in a moment, and instead of returning to his native country, he returned to the gaming table, where, in a very few hours, he was stripped of every sol he had in the world, and left to reflect on the diversity of fortune, which he had known in the space of so short a time. The moment he returned to his lodgings he sold the greater part of his clothes, and by this means raised a few Louis, and returned to his own haunt in a more humble state than before. When I left Aix, he had by half crown stakes so far retrieved his affairs, as to pay the thirty pounds he had borrowed of his friend, and to be ambitious of increasing his stake. I never heard whether success attended him, nor, for his avarice and imprudence was I much interested in his fate.

Foreign Intelligence.

LONDON, March 24.

Extract of a letter from Lemberg, dated March 3.

"FOUR Polish regiments are arrived here as a full reinforcement of the garrison of this place, which is very near the seat of war between Russia and the Turks, being only 43 Hungarian miles from Choczim. All communication towards the Budziac Tartary being now stopped, we hear nothing from Oczakow, or any new operations that have taken place. The weather here is very inclement, and much snow on the ground."

It is pretty generally known, that the cabinet of Madrid have resolved to assist the Porte with no inconsiderable naval force, and that they have declared such intention to our court, and so accounted for their present armament.

The intention of the Spaniards, and the account of their armament, are so far from being unsatisfactory, that it has been notified to the court of Madrid, that no obstacle would be thrown in the way of such intention being carried into execution by the British nation.

April 3. Mr. Adams, the late envoy from the American States, set off for Portsmouth on Sunday last, to embark on his return. That gentleman settled all his concerns with great honor; and whatever his political tenets may have been, he was much respected and esteemed in this country, his salary was 2,000l per annum. He could not do with a smaller sum, and it was found not very convenient for the states to continue the payment; this is the sole cause of his removal; a consul only will be appointed in his stead.

Such is the present posture of affairs, that we are confidently assured ministry are under the greatest apprehensions that a war must inevitably take place, in consequence of the Russian fleet passing to the Mediterranean. Dispatches have been sent to Madrid on this subject, and we may shortly expect to find that naval preparations will be made.

It is confidently asserted, that the prince Potemkin has been banished by the empress of Russia to Siberia; the reason of which is not positively known, but supposed to arise from the intrigues of field marshal Romanzow, his declared enemy, who jealous of his superior abilities, an ardent turn of enterprise, has laboured for some time past to have him removed from the councils and confidence of his royal mistress. The greatest enemies of this unfortunate prince agree in attributing to him great abilities, and an extensive knowledge, but declare his removal necessary on account of his overbearing temper.

The generals Papilla and Pallavizjny, Col. Heibel, at the head of a detachment from the regiment of Valagne Illyrian, and 100 arquebusiers, marched suddenly for Vieux Orlowa, which, as it consisted of little more than 200 inhabitants, chiefly merchants, they entered without difficulty, and giving the Turks leave to retire or remain with their families, they accepted of the former, and left the Austrians in full possession of the place. Neish Orsowa surrendered at the same time to the Imperial arms.

Government having fully assumed the power of controuling India affairs, we have now only to hope for merciful ministers, who may forbear directing the military force with which they are armed independant of parliament, to the entire subversion of our few remaining privileges!

ALEXANDRIA, June 5.

Extract of a letter from a gentleman of good information, in Rhode-Island, of a recent date, to his correspondent in this town.

"Honesty seems to regain its long usurped government by the machinations of our uncommon villainy. We find from the general intentions of the continent to adopt the constitution so much talked of, that our patriot are now encouraged and highly elevated; that all the detestable character who have so long disgraced our country are likely to fall in as universal contempt, as the world has so equally agreed to their uncommon depravity, where known.

BOSTON, May 28.

A great number of the gentlemen elected to serve in the general court, the ensuing year, arrived in town yesterday. From a general knowledge of their characters, we derive a pleasing satisfaction that old Massachusetts will be blessed with wise, prudent and federal measures for the coming year.

His excellency John Hancock is re-elected governor of this commonwealth, and the honorable Benjamin Lincoln, lieutenant governor.

Pittſburgh, July 5.

Colonel Joſeph Mitchel of Berkely county, Virginia, arrived at this place on the 27th ult. from the Indian country. He was captured by the ſavages, the 8th of May laſt on the Ohio, about 20 miles below the mouth of the big Miami. There were in the boat with him his ſon, Alexander Brown, and John Lancaſter. The boat loaded with whiſkey, ſpirits and dry goods; and ſome horſes on board. The ſavages had poſſeſſion of a Kentucky boat, one of the three captured ſome time before. They had nine oars. They were in advance, and put up a flag; we endeavoured to paſs them, but this could not be effected, and were obliged to give up. The ſavages boarded and took the priſoners in their own boat to ſhore. Behaved with civility, ſpread blankets to ſit upon; marched them thence to their camp about nine miles diſtant. The 6th day the captain of the band feled colonel Mitchel with a club, and ſtood over him with a tomahawk, as if about to ſtrike, but did not; but on his recovery bound up his wounds, and gave him grog. In the mean time, Lancaſter ſeeing this, made his eſcape, and probably reached Kentucky, where he lives. Was marched 22 days, to the Shawaneſe towns on the Miamie, at the diſtance of 300 miles, as was ſaid, the greater part through moraſſes. Five days after was adopted into a family: next day purchaſed, with Mr. Brown, by traders from Detroit, Scotch and French gentlemen, whoſe names are, Francis Lapontaine, Mecolay Larrain, George Sharp, George Ironſide, Robert Wilſon, Calleron, Hyacenthe Laſſelle, Francis Marchatere, Antoine Laſſelle, Antoine Dupreſne, Jacques Godfrey, John Martin, Charles Gouin. A conſiderable ſum was paid by theſe gentlemen to the ſavages, at leaſt 150 dollars, for their liberty. Col. Mitchel was entertained by theſe gentlemen and treated with great humanity and kindneſs. Sent by them under convoy in a periaugre down the Miamie to the rapids of that river, about 200 miles diſtant. Friendly uſed there by captain M'Kee, and ſome traders, Mr. Cochran and others Furniſhed with clothes by captain M'Kee; came thence through the woods to this place. His ſon ſtill remains at the Wabaſh towns with the Shawaneſe with Mr. Purviance, and likewiſe Mr. Ridout, by Indian intelligence. Mr. Mitchel, as well as Mr. Brown, expreſs the higheſt gratitude to the gentlemen their deliverers. Mr. Brown arrived here in company with colonel Mitchel.

Wedneſday laſt arrived at this place, his excellency Arthur St. Clair, eſquire, governor of the weſtern territory; he will in a few days proceed to Muſkingum to hold the treaty with the Indians.

☞ The Mechanical Society of the town of Pittſburgh, are requeſted to meet at Mr. Maſon Smith's on Monday next, the 7th inſt. at half an hour after 7 o'clock P. M.

Of Man's Dependence on his Creator.

THRO' all the various ſhifting ſcenes
Of life's miſtaken ill or good,
The hand of God conducts, unſeen,
The beautiful viciſſitude.

He portions with paternal care,
However unjuſtly we complain,
To each their neceſſary ſhare
Of joy and ſorrow, health and pain.

Truſt we to youth, or friends or pow'r,
Fix we our foot on fortune's ball;
When moſt ſecure, the coming hour,
If he ſees fit may blaſt them all.

When loweſt ſunk with grief and ſhame,
Gorg'd with affliction's deepeſt cup,
Loſt to relations, friends and fame,
His pow'rful arm can raiſe them up.

Before his throne the poor oppreſs'd
With ſtand'rous rage acquitted ſtand;
He guides the exile to his reſt
And country in a foreign land.

His pow'rful conſolations cheer,
His mercies ſcreen th' affliction'd head;
His hand can wipe away the tear
That ſecret wets the widow'd bed.

All things on earth, and all in heav'n,
On his eternal will depend;
And all for greater good were giv'n,
Would man purſue th appointed end.

This be my care; to all beſide
Indifferent let my wiſhes be;
Paſſion be calm, and dumb be pride,
And fix my ſoul, my God, on thee.

Anecdote of Sir Chriſtopher Wren.

DURING the building of St. Paul's Church, a country carpenter applied to the overſeer of the workmen for employment as a carver. The overſeer ſmiled at the man's temerity, hearing he had never worked in London; this was obſerved by ſir Chriſtopher, who was preſent, and calling the man to him, aſked what he had chiefly worked at in the country? Pig troughs, &c. was the anſwer. Well then, ſays ſir Chriſtopher, let us ſee a ſpecimen of your workmanſhip in a ſow and pigs. The man returned in a few days having performed his part with ſuch exquiſite ſkill, that he was immediately employed; and, in fine, executed ſome of the moſt difficult parts in the cathedral, to the aſtoniſhment of all that knew the circumſtance.

RAN-away from Greenſburgh, the 20th of June, a negro Man, about 45 years of age, loſt ſome of his foree teeth, It is thought he will either go to the Indians or down the river. Whoever ſecures ſaid negro, and brings him to Greenſburgh goal, ſhall have Twenty Shillings reward, and reaſonable charges.

June 2, 1788.

IS now laid out at the mouth of the Loyalhannon, on the banks of the Kiſkiminitas river, one hundred and ninety two LOTS, each lot being 66 feet in front, and 198 back; there are two principal ſtreets in this town, 90 feet broad; four others 66 feet wide; 15 and an half feet alley's; there are 24 of thoſe lots fronting Loyalhannon creek, on which there is erected a ſaw and grift mills, and 24 front the Kiſkiminitas river, which is boatable the greateſt part of the year, ſo that every advantage reſulting from water carriage or trade, or in bringing the materials for building, may be largely enjoyed: thro' this town paſſeth the Frankſtown road, leading from a boatable part of the Juniata river, which is 51 miles from this place, ſo that we can have the benefit of the Harriſburgh market conveniently, and the diſtance from Philadelphia to Pittſburgh by that way is ſo much leſs, that it will probably become the ſtate road and channel of the weſtern trade. The ſituation is high and level, with a number of good ſprings, and ſurrounded with a fertile country, abounding with ſtone coal, &c. Any perſon may have a lot that pays 20 ſhillings previous to the drawing of the lottery, and one dollar quit rent per annum, but if the purchaſer pays 40 ſhillings more at the expiration of one year from the drawing of the lottery, he ſhall be entitled to the lot free from quit rent for ever. There will be ſeveral lots given for the uſe of public worſhip, ſchool houſes, &c. alſo ſome land adjacent to the town for commons. Notice will be given through the channel of this Gazette the time the lottery will be drawn.

Tickets may be had of colonel Benjamin Davis, in the Forks of Yough, with James Barr, eſquire, on Loyalhannon, at the Printing Office, Pittſburgh, and with one of the ſubſcribers in Greenſburgh

BOATS

FOR SALE.

AT Elizabeth Town on the Monongahela, may now be had, KENTUCKY BOATS of different dimenſions; where alſo for the future, Boats of every conſtruction and ſize may be had, at as low a price as any on theſe waters. To prevent the detention of travellers ſo frequent on this river, for want of boats, the proprietor has erected a Saw Mill and Boat Yard on the premiſes, where timber is plenty, and four of the beſt boat builders from Philadelphia, are conſtantly employed.

This town is ſituated on the eaſt ſide of the Monongahela, between Red Stone Old Fort, and Pittſburgh, about an equal diſtance from each, and is ſix miles above the mouth of Yough; the place where it ſtands was formerly called the New Store. The beſt rout to it from Bedford, is by Bonnet's tavern, from thence the Glade road to Cherry's mill, thence to Budd's ferry on Yough, thence to captain Peterſon's, and from thence a good road to Elizabeth town, where travellers may be accommodated with houſes to depoſit their goods in, and be ſupplied with proviſions of every kind, at a reaſonable price; another ſingular advantage attending this place is, that boats are never detained for want of water, having always enough to go into the Ohio, which is but twenty miles diſtant.

Thoſe who would wiſh to be ſupplied as above, may know the terms by applying to

S. BAYARD, Proprietor,
on the premiſes.

Elizabeth Town, June 4, 1788.

THE ſubſcriber requeſts that thoſe indebted to him, will immediately make payment, if they delay, this will be the only notice they will receive, before a ſuit is commenced. He is ſorry to obſerve, that his long indulgence to many has been ill requited.

HUGH ROSS.

Pittſburgh, 9th June, 1788.

BY virtue of ſundry writs of venditioni exponas to me directed, will be expoſed to ſale at Greenſburgh, on Thurſday the 10th of July next, one tract of land, or ſo much thereof as lies in Weſtmoreland county, ſituate in Mount Pleaſant townſhip, adjoing lands of Robert Witherington and others, whereon are erected very valuable grift and ſaw mills, well known by the name of Cherry's mills, and for being one of the firſt places on the road for a houſe of entertainment, together with the appurtenances thereunto belonging. Taken in execution at the ſuits of Edward Cook, eſquire, aſſignee of Robert Orr, eſquire, William and John Lee, Archibald Irwin, and others, as the property of Ralph Cherry, and William Perry, and to be ſold by

JOHN GIBSON, Coroner
Weſtmoreland county, June 1, 1788.
